

KNGO - GOOD NEWS STORIES

MENG & SAM ART

Meng and Sam Art are orphans and are cared for by their 80 year old grandmother. Meng was 16 years of age and had never been to school. Through the KNGO Sponsorship Program Meng was provided with school uniforms and the required resources to enable her to commence her education at the government school. Because Meng had never received any education, she had to commence in Grade 1 but she worked very hard and was soon promoted to Grade 4. Meng and Sam Art live 7 kilometres from KNGO but she and her brother Sam Art have now been provided with bicycles through the sponsorship program and will commence supplementary Khmer literacy, maths and English classes when the new term starts in October this year.

There are now fourteen students in the Student Sponsorship Program which is enabling them to receive an education which would otherwise be unavailable to them.

The family was living in appalling conditions and their sponsor recently provided funding to build them a house.
